There is no possible excuse to miss this fantastic exhibition; the selection of pieces is marvellous, the location is impressive, there is huge names like Helmut Newton, Marina Abramovic and Alfredo Jaar included and it's for free.

One of the tops floors of the former light bulb factory has been the chosen location by the avid art collector Heiner Wemhöner to let the public have a look at his treasures. The OSRAM Höfe offers a huge space for the exhibition and melts perfectly with the works thanks to the precise curation work of Philipp Bollmann.

The exhibition will be on display until the 18th of May
